CARMEL RESIDENT, SQUIRRELY TYPE — This chattering gray squirrel and his family are residents of a pine tree on Dolores St. The forest environment of Carmel, with the City's great concern with preserving the green loveliness of its trees, makes Carmel the first choice of this chattering, busy little creature. His tranquility is disturbed only occasionally by the intrusion of a nosy photographer.

Council Sets Budget, Tax Rate Up To $1.30

By Gunnar Norberg

For a long silent moment at Tuesday night's City Council meeting, it seemed just possible that Council members would make a final large budget cut which City Finance Officer Arthur Plaxton had said would be necessary if this year's city property tax was to be held to last year's level.

But when the thoughtful silence ended, the Council did not make the cut contemplated, and therefore the tax line was not held.

While the Council did not actually set a definite tax rate Tuesday night, it did conclude its budget sessions, and the tax rate to be set at a special meeting Thursday afternoon was thought likely to be pegged at about $1.30, and this some four cents above last year's $1.26 figure.

Just before the critical silence began, the City Council was considering whether or not to eliminate one of two new trucks included in the Street Department budget. Since Finance Officer Plaxton had said that an added budget reduction of $8,700 would be required to hold last year's property tax level of $1.26, Councilmen appeared to be considering the possibility of dropping the larger of the two trucks involved and thus saving nearly $7,700.

Both Mayor Barney Laiolo and Councilman Herbert Blanks had looked hard at the two truck items.

However following a statement by Councilman Eben Whittlesey favoring purchase of both trucks in question, rather than postponsing the buying of one of them, the Council unanimously approved the budgeting of both. (Since one cent on the tax rate will produce about $2,600 of revenue, the elimination of the larger of the two truck pruchases, would have put the nex tax rate within a small fraction of a cent of last year's.)

Before reaching the truck item, the Council had made a number of small reductions totaling some $2,600 in various departmental operating accounts, and had decided on a new formula for distribution of the portion of hostelry tax revenue which previously had been ear-marked solely for Sunet Center enhancement.

Hereafter this tax revenue – presently some $30,000 a year will be used both at Sunset Center and at the city-owned Forest Theater and also for a newly added purpose – to help defray "... the cost of answering inquiries from the public which would otherwise require action by the City staff."

This last provision refers to the City funds the Council voted to the Carmel Business Association, which had asked for the sum of $2,400 and which the Council had tentatively budgets at half that amount during last week's sessions.

Last week Ashton Stanley spoke to the Council in an

County Trout Planting

Department of Fish and Game trout planting crews will visit waters in eight coast area counties this week to stock catchable-size rainbows.

Waters on this week's schedule include the Big Sur River.

The Department reminds anglers that at this time of the year water conditions can change rapidly, and may become unsuitable for trout. For this reason the planting schedule is subject to change without notice.

Letter to the Editor

An unhappy and sad rumor may have reached you that the Carmel Museum of Art–newest cultural institution in our midst (not quite three years old), occupying the old Wells Fargo Bank building on Dolores Street–is experiencing a serious financial pinch.

This is not exaggerated: the situation is indeed serious.

The Board of Directors seeks to avail itself of the generous spirit of the Pine Cone by means of this "Letter to the Editor," to inform the community of the problem. For it is the community of Carmel, and of the Peninsula area as a whole, which the Museum seeks to serve. And it is the community on whom we must ultimately depend for our strongest and our steadiest support.

Being a non-profit institution, dedicated soley to the preservation and interpretation of our area's magnificent artistic heritage, and holding our doors open free to the public (including numerous school classes which continually visit our galleries and shows), we depend for our operating capital on two sources.

First, outright, tax-deductible donations from those sufficiently interested in the work we pursue.

Second, membership dues (from $10 up per year) and various fund-raising programs which we sponsor.

Frankly, the Museum has been able to advance as far and as fast as it has mainly because of the generous help of one particularly large donor. We could not reasonably expect this one source to support us forever, and, indeed, we have been striving desperately to extend our base in the community to prepare for a day when this exceptional help would no longer be forthcoming.

That day, alas, has arrived.

Our first "angel" has been forced to reconsider those first generous commitments and to put more of her help into the form of personal effort rather than in large cash donations.

Now, in this time of an economic climate not the most favorable for financial appeals–tight money, sagging stock markets, etc.–we find ourselves in the awkward position of being. frankly, without sufficiency to carry on a work so fairly begun.

We cannot continue to build and capitalize on solid past accomplishments which have been recognized by impartial and professional judges throughout the country as outstanding and exceptional.

We cannot embark on programs already planned for the community.

Indeed, we will be forced to see put in jeopardy the magnificent and still-growing collection of art which has come to us from individual donors from the local area, from all over California, and from many other parts of the country. This collection should be preserved and passed on to the community, permanently secure and safe.

We need funds to see us through this interim period, to give us time and breathing space to implement programs already planned, in order to insure that this very problem does not come upon us suddenly again. We appeal to those in the community who may be interested and willing and able to help this fine institution survive, to contact us–preferably through our Museum President, Robert E. Ross of Carmel.

Time is of the essence.

Carmel Red Cross Issues Report

The annual report of the Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross lists the names of 401 volunteers who served in the chapter in 1968.

This total includes all production and uniformed volunteers, ambulance crews, fund drive workers, First Aid and Water Safety Instructors, and officers, board and committee members.

But they need more!

Volunteer chairman Mrs. Harriet Shanner says the chapter is the source of the information, and she is obviously the authority.

Violet Baldwin, who schedules workers for the bloodmobiles in the chapter and at Fort Ord, needs typists for registration cards and others for labeling. At least two more drivers for the chapter station wagon to take care of the military convalescent patients tour are needed.

The crew of administrative assistants for the office should be augmented.

In everyone of the various places Red Cross volunteers serve, they need more help.

Anyone having a few spare moments to donate to this satisfying and needed project can get in touch with Mrs. Shanner at the chapter office, 624-6921.

Delfino Graduates

More than 1250 candidates were presented baccalaureate and advanced degrees at the University of Oregon's 1969 summer graduation exercises Saturday, August. 16.

The classes include 100 candidates for doctoral degrees, 583 for masters degrees, and 613 for baccalaureate degrees for a total of 1296 candidates.

Receiving a bachelor of science degree in sociology from the College of Liberal Arts was Alan P. Delfino of Carmel.

Allman Cook Announces Sale of Pine Cone

Allman J. Cook, former publisher of the Pine Cone, has announced that the paper has been sold to John Mustard and Wayne Everton, owners and publishers of The Squire, a community weekly in Lafayette, Calif.

According to Cook, only the newspaper and job printing shop has been sold, and he will retain ownership of the building on Dolores St.

John Mustard is a native of South Bend, Ind., and attended Indian University, majoring in journalism.

He came to California in 1963 and worked for the local paper in Walnut Creek. He founded The Squire 15 months ago, and Everton joined him three months later.

He and his wife Marie still live in Walnut Creek with their son Tim, who is three.

"The Pine Cone is a delightful newspaper," Mustard said, "and certainly we are not going to change anything."

Everton is a native of Logan, Utah. He majored in business administration at Utah State College, and came to California in 1961, settling in Sacramento as a broadcaster in radio and television.

The press of business interests in the San Francisco Bay area four years ago forced him to move to Moraga, where he still resides with his wife Beverly and two sons, Mitchell, 12 and Mark, 10.

A year ago he saw a future in The Squire, a tabloid-size newspaper of 14,500 circulation, and has been associated with John Mustard since that time.

"We realize that the Pine Cone is one of the great traditions of this area. We believe that the local newspaper should reflect the desires of its readers, and we anticipate making no changes unless the readers insist," Everton said.

Allman Cook has no long range plans for the future. Immediately, he will rest until after the holidays, then spend several months in Europe. However, he will continue to live in the Carmel area.

effort to restore the Business Association request to its originally requested figure–but without success.

This Tuesday evening, the Carmel Citizens' Committee sought to have the Business Association item eliminated entirely from the 1969-70 budget. Percy Wilson, Citizens' Committee board member and treasurer, read a statement from his organization, opposing "... any proposed budget item for the promotion of more business ..." because such an appropriation would violate "... our credo that Carmel is primarily, essentially, and predominently a residential City where business and commerce are ... subordinated to its residential Character ..."

The statement was signed by Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN, Ret.), Citizens's Committee President. While the Fisher plea did not lead to elimination of the reduced Business Association contribution, it did get an attentive hearing, and Councilman Whittlesey emphasized that he wanted the city's Business Association contribution to be used for secretarial and not for advertising purposes.

"As for tourist business," the Citizens' Committee statement continued, "Carmel already has enough. A glance at our streets and at hte mommoth at the mammoth busses bringing tourists here should convince any citizen ... that its residential aspect is in grave danger ..."

Before taking up budgetary matters the Council approved a proposal to use a portion of the Hodges property (located between the Carmel Mission and the Carmel River), as a landfill site, where tree trimmings and forest debris will be dumped. Mayor Laiolo said the City would have "first refusal" to buy the six-and-a-halfacre site during the five-year period for which the City use was to be arranged, and that an option to renew would be included in the actual agreement which is to come before the Council at its September meeting.

A bill currently before a committee of the State Legislature aroused the Council's ire. The bill, authored by former Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, would require all elected and many appointed officials of cities to file annual statements showing their individual ownership of all property, except their homes, if the value of such property exceeds $10,000.

Council members felt that it would be extremely difficult to secure competent city officials either to run for elective office or accept appointment to administrative or planning commission posts, if the requirements of the pending bill (A.B. 325) were to become law, and they directed City Administrator Hugh Bayless so to inform State Senator Donald Grunsky, and newly elected State Assemblyman Robert Wood.

In connection with this action, the point was made that in many cities, as in Carmel, city councilmen and planning commissioners serve without pay, and the proposed new disclosure law would seem to many of them to be excessive harrassment.

At the close of the meeting, Councilman Blanks announced that he would be out of the state from Aug. 27 to September 27, and Councilman Ken Brown said he would be out of the city "for a month or six weeks" following the Council's regular September meeting. Mayor Laiolo announced a briefer absence – from Aug. 23 to 28.

Cohan's sister, in "George M!" now at the Dolores Street dinner theater. Here she is surrounded by members of the male chorus, Peter Granoff, William Faulkner, Howard E. Hinckley, Trip Batten and Chuck Bramlet, each of whom is called upon to play several vignette roles as Cohan's life story unfolds to the accompaniment of his great songs.

Laguna Seca Trans-Am Aug. 23, 24

Laguna Seca Raceway's Aug. 23-24 Trans-American Sedan Championship run–a grueling 225-mile endurance test over 119 twisting laps–looms as the most crucial stop of the popular, 12 race, $300,000 manufacturer's series.

If Ford, led by former Indy-500 winner Parnelli Jones in a factory-backed Mustang, is to remain in the running for the 1969 title, it must stop the Chevrolet Camaro victory parade of defending champion Mark Donohue.

Donohue romped to his third straight victory last Sunday at Watkins Glen, N.Y., averaging 107.33 miles-an-hour in a Roger Penske-prepared Sunoco Camaro.

A win at Laguna Seca for Donohue or teammate Ed Leslie of Monterey would give Chevrolet a lead that could be overcome only by Ford victories in the last three races of the series at Riverside, Sears Point and Kent, Wash.

American Motors Javelins and Pontiac Firebirds round out Trans-Am competition while factory supported BMW's, Alfa Romeos and Porsches compete in the under-2-liter class.

At stake is much more than the title in the $300,000 series–for racing performance is certain to sway the auto-hungry public which spends millions of dollars at dealerships across the nation.

Three Debs Will Bow

The three young ladies pictured have much in common since their families have been close since before they were born.

Indeed Sheila Hately, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hately, Jr. of Pebble Beach, and Karen Thomas, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Mark Thomas of Carmel Valley, are both goddaughters of Dr. Edmund W. von Hasseln of Rancho Aguajito. His daughter Louise lost her mother in March.

They are all three involced in some way this week with the wedding of Donna Wood and Jim Hatlo, both of Pebble Beach, which takes place Saturday at All Saints' Church.

Both Sheila and Louise will be among Donna's attendant, and all are caught up in the wedding festivities and the party being given this weekend for Louise by Mr. and Mrs. Alger Chaney at the Beach and Tennis Club.

All three have been invited to make their debut at the San Francisco Cotillion at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel on December 23.

Louise, who attended Santa Catalina School for Girls in Monterey and Wykeham Rise School in Washington, Connecticut, will return from Centenary College for Women in Hackettstown, New Jersey for the event.

Sheila, a June Santa Cataline graduate, and Karen, who was graduated in June from Verde Valley School in Sedona, Arizona, will return from the Univeristy of Denver for the Christmas season.

Alliance Members Are Commuting to Paris

A steady stream of Carmelites go back and forth to Paris, many of them natives of France.

Among them, Mrs. John (Madeleine) Dowdakin of Carmel Valley is leaving today for a couple of months in her native land where she has a mother and numerous cousins and aunts.

She hopes to spend some time in Normandy and Deauville as well as her beloved Paris.

Jehanne Salinger Carlson, former Alliance Francaise president, arrived Tuesday from Paris where she has been spending the summer.

Mrs. J. M. (Nicole) Longfellow of Carmel Valley will follow shortly. (Her co-president of the Alliance, Mrs. James L. (Joelle) Hathaway is at home now recuperating from surgery.)

The petite Mrs. Sean (Jacqueline) Flavin, no longer strictly a Carmelite, although she and her husband, the son of playright Martin Flavin, used to live here, is in Paris now.

She will probably sail for the USA toward the middle of September.

Another prominent Alliance member, its first president some 18 years ago, the fascinating Mrs. August (Genevieve) Armanasco who frequently returns to her native city, is vactioning with her family in the other direction this summer.

She and her husband who is head of the foreign language department at Monterey Peninsula College, hardly got back from the Sierra before taking off for Hawaii.

New Gallery On Cannery Row

The graphics and block prints of Zane Speiser of Carmel Valley are being featured in a new art and antique gallery in Cannery Row, called the Three Cabooses, which opened recently.

Zane and his wife Imogene have just returned from a two week camping trip to Mexico with their son Benjy and daughter Tegan.

They spent most of their time near Guadalajara where they visited the university and various potters and artists' studios.

MIFS Variety Show

Friends of the Monterey Peninsula Institute of Foreign Studies are still talking about the colorful and ingenious costumes and the clever acts put on by the foreign students during the recent "international weekend."

Song and dance numbers were put on by the Russian language students; musical offerings by members of the Chinese and French departments; one-act plays and art slides by Italian language students; and folk dances by Arabian students.

A group of friends of the Institute, headed by Mrs. Rody Holt and Mrs. Frank Ringland of Carmel served refreshments to the large cast and crowd of 275 attending the show. Many of the "Friends" brought art works to exhibit.

The following evening, a festive dinner dance was held at the Outrigger on Cannery Row.

Granddaughter Visits Carmel

Mrs. Betty Speiser of Carmel has had an exciting week. Her granddaughter, Terry Speiser, of Washington, D.C. is visiting her so that her time is filled showing her around and making plans to take her up to San Francisco next week.

Mrs. Speiser's son, Zane Speiser, and his family have just returned from Mexico, so that Terry and she have both been entertained by accounts of their adventures.

Adult School Starts Chorale Society

The Monterey Peninsula Choral Society will begin its 1969-1970 season on Sept. 3, as a regular course under the Monterey Adult School Program.

Registration will take place Wednesday, Sept. 3, at 7 p.m. in the band room of Fremont Jr. High School, 1060 Kimball Ave., Seaside.

The Choral Society looks forward to an exciting new season under the baton of Haymo Taeuber, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. Taeuber has conducted extensively in Europe, and toured with the internationally famed Vienna Boys' Choir.

The Choral Society will begin working on Haydn's "Theresien Mass", which will be performed Dec. 13 and 14. Further scheduled events are a Palm Sunday concert at the Naval Postgraduate School, and Beethoven's ninth Symphony which will be performed with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. As a part of the Bi-Centennial Anniversary of the Carmel Mission, Taeuber will conduct the Beethoven "Missa Solemnis" in the Mission Basilica.

Alexandra Robison Returns

Alexandra Robison, La Favorita for the 1968 Merienda, and attractive daughter of the Shelburn Robisons, has returned for the summer from Spain, but not to Carmel.

She is working in San Francisco just now for ABC television, in particular on the "Anniversary Game" show while staying with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Vaughn in Alameda.

Alex will return to the University of Madrid in September to complete work on her doctorate in Spanish literature financed by a diplomatic scholarship from the Spanish government.

She received her master's degree in Spanish last year at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies while teaching Spanish at Robert Louis Stevenson School.

John Gosling Opens Music Festival

Former Monterey County Cymphony conductor, John Gosling, who now conducts the Erie, Pennsylvania Symphony, will start a summer music festival at Bear Valley in the Hi gh Sierra this weekend, Aug. 23 and 24.

An invitation to all his many friends here has been extended to attend the Sunday chamber concert ensemble concert by San Francisco Bay area musicians without charge.

The concert will be given at 3 p.m. in the Bear Valley Lodge on State Route 4 above Angels Camp, via Stockton and San Andreas.

Saturday rehearsals at 2 and 7 p.m. will also be open to the public.

An open air amphitheater is planned for future summer festivals, similar to the Marlboro, Vt. concept.

Gosling took part in the Marlboro program last month and has been invited to return next June. He will share the podium with Pablo Casals during the 1970 Erie Summer Festival of the Arts

Local Woman Contributes First Article

It is always a happy day when someone has an article published, especially for the first time and that has happened to Mrs. J.J. Granoff of Carmel Valley.

The September issue of Woman's Day carries an article in the NEIGHBORS column which describes the way she used to color the bath water with food coloring to make her children's bath a fun time.

Although her eldest, Tatiana, is now 17, and entering Stanford in the fall, she will no doubt carry on this delightful family custom when she has a family of her own.

James Purvis To Be Wed In September

An exciting new job as acting service executive at the prestigious advertising agency, Merrill Anderson Company of New York City is making it possible for James Purvis to make serious plans for marriage this fall.

In fact the date has already been set for September 27 at St. Brendan's Church in New Haven, for his marriage to Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, the daughter of Mrs. John Fitzgerald of that city.

Jim met his financee while she was an undergraduate at Columbia University, of which she is also a graduate.

The glamor of working in an office in the old Vanderbilt carriage house off Washington Square may prevent him from returning to law school at the University of California in San Francisco, fear his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Purvis of Hatton Fields.

The young couple plant to spend a year in New York City where Elizabeth is a psychiatric social worker at St. Vincent's Hospital, before returning to California.

Jim has a sister Maryann Purvis, who is teaching kindergarten in Daly City.

Judy Kratky Passes Test

Another alumna of Spain's University of Madrid is Judy Kratky of Carmel Highlands who recently passed the qualifying examinations for her doctoral candicacy at UCLA.

Judy was a Carmel High School graduate of 1962, attended UCLA as an undergraduate and earned her master's degree there two years ago.

Now she will concentrate on her dissertation on 19th century Spanish literature.

Big Sur Babies

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hadley who live at Post Ranch, Big Sur, are now the parents of Petula Rae, born August 12. At the Naval Facility at Point Sur, Jeffrey Cam entered the family of Mr. and Mrs. Camille Chartrand on the same date.

Susan Kumiko is the name of the little baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Williams of Carmel Valley, born August 5.

An Ad in the Pine Cone Is a Better Value

Musical Comments

Music Editor Pine Cone: – I read with anticipation your nice remarks about the Opera Workshop Concert to be given today – and now today I have heard the concert – and despite the fact that I was a bit chilly I stayed thru till the last note – and so did the large crowd in attendance – we all enjoyed it very much and asked for more . . .

I think the City of Carmle and the Cultural Commission both are to be congratulated for this performance . . . I do hope we may look forward to others in the future.

I wonder if one of these new fangled geodesic domes which are so popular nowadays might be the answer – worht considering.

Thanks a lot for letting me air my views – I know others feel as I do – thanks again.

Alic Pierce Desch-Carmel

Note: In spite of a chill at the open air Forest Theater on Sunday afternoon, the singers in Nancy Ness Bowman's Opera Workshop charmed a devoted audience who came, bundled up, to hear their favorites.

Excerpts from Brahms' Liebeslieder Walser opened the program sung by contralto Jean Canada (he shoulders sheltered by a mink stole), Helen Wheeler, soprano, Joe Me ssineo, tenor, and Sgt. William Kempin, baritone.

Gathered around the piano at which Camille Oleata was accompanying them, the group appeared completely relaxed. Mme. Bowman and Sgt Kempin hardly could have been, however, in as much as he had learned the part in two days due to the unavoidable absence of Christopher Hungerland.

The program continues with operatic and light musical offerings by combinations of those mentioned and the following singers: Carole Moran (who sang the Strauss Vienna Waltz with real flavor); Gregory Higgins; Nina Russo Taylor (strong young voice); Lucy Bowman, and Clarence Cleary..

Fred Schaad accompanied some of the numbers.

Since the fog showed no signs of lifting, "Madame," as they call her, decided to shorten the second half of the program to the disappointment of the audience.

Music Pleases Audience

A large audience filled All Saints' Episcopal Church on Sunday evening to hear the second concert by the Hidden Valley Music Seminars Concert Orchestra conducted by Dr. Michael Zearott, and the Hidden Valley Concert Chorale led by John Waddell.

Some came who had been skeptical of the enthusiastic reports of the work of these talented students between the ages of 15 and 19, who are auditioned all over the country by a traveling jury.

They too were on their feet at the end of the concert, delighted with the verve and spirit of the music as well as the technical skill of the performers.

The strong, clear tones of divided wind and brass ensembles from the front and back of the church preceded the program. Led by Prof. Cora Lauridson, they were joined in Bach's Fantasia on Jesu, Meine Freude by the Choral conducted by Waddell.

Igor Stravinsky's great Symphony of Psalms, sung by the Chorale with young Randall Bare and Dr. Michael Zearott at the piano, was the climax of the first half of the program.

The angular and dissonant music was a real test for the a capella choir of 22 well balanced voices as well as the duo-pianists.

It followed a group of English madrigals, of which my particular favorite was the enchanting "April is in My Mistress' Face" by Thomas Morley.

Mozart's Overture to the Marriage of Figaro played by the Concert Orchestra with vivacity and precision at an incredible pace, followed the intermission.

Robert Schumann's Symphony No. 4 was the major offering in that it contained so many changes in tempo and syncopated rhythm.

There was never a falter in the way the orchestra followed its conductor through subtle build-ups in acceleration and retarding decrescendoes of the immensely difficult music.

The warm, vibrato dialogue between first cellist, Don Reiter and first violinist, Nick Grant, in the Romance movement was as beautifully done as anyone could possibly ask.

Absolutely on pitch, tone quality nicely blended, the youthful chamber orchestra led by Dr. Zearott was just the right size for the church acoustics to handle.

The Mozart Mass in F Major will be presented by the Hidden Valley Concert Orchestra and Chorale at both morning services at 9:15 and 11 a.m. at All Saints' this Sunday, Aug. 24.

There will be an evening concert that Sunday at 8:15 p.m. featuring arias sung by baritone Allen Gilbert.

Last concert in the series will be on Friday evening, August 29 at 8:15 p.m.

At Carmel Valley Manor, the young people will give a concert for residents and guests in the auditorium there on Saturday, Aug. 23 at 7:45 p.m.

Peggy Burrows In Chicago

Peggy Palmer Burrows, who wrote for the Pine Cone in the '20's under the heading Mencken and Me, now lives in Chicago where she is an artist.

Her daughter Wendy (incidentally her eighth child, says an informant) has produced some imaginative color sketches in miniature of lady bugs and fairies, suitable for a child's room, which are displayed at Neare's Gift Shop on Dolores behind the Post Office.

Wendy is now in Europe.

Persian Still Missing

The Robert Tamseys of the Highlands Inn are still missing their shaded silver chinchilla Persian cat named Laddie which has been missing since August 12.

They are hoping that a child might have picked it up and that the child's parents might hear of the owner's loss.

Carmel Babies

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Crummey are the new parents of a boy named Brian Patrick born July 29. On the same date at Community Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. William Hanzelka had a boy named Eric.

On August 1, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little named Michel Robert was born.

Christopher III entered the family of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Agorastos II of Pebble Beach on July 30.

Christopher has a sister Kirsten, and His grandparents, Mrs. Christopher Agorastos, and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sequeira, all live in Burlingame.

August babies included Kendra Jean born to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Noble on the seventh; Alexander Peter to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hurst on the eighth and Jason Hansen, born to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Houde, on the ninth.

Peter Elstob

British Author Here

The arrival of novelist and Hispanic expert Peter Elstob from London for a visit with his father and step-mother, Fred and Carolyn Elstob of Carmel, was the signal for the gathering of the Elstob clan on Monterey Peninsula.

Breakfast, luncheon, picnic, dinner and midnight suppers whirled 'round the author's brief stay.

Gala occasions were the cocktail and dinner affairs at the Carmel home of Comdr. Marshall Slayton, USN and Mrs. Slayton (Lucy Elstob), Peter's half sister . . . at the Pacific Grove home of Peter's brother and sister-in-law, the Winston Elstobs.

Peter's half sister, Mrs. Mary Elstob Holland, also of Pacific Grove, flung wide her doors.

A theatre party at the Circle Theatre in Carmel was climaxed with a glittering mid-might supper given by Mrs. Jane Edson Parker in her Carmel home on Mesa Drive.

Because of Peter Elstob's special interest in and knowledge of the theatre (he was one of the founders of London's Arts Theatre) guests at Mrs. Parker's party, in addition to all the Elstobs, included Roy Baxter, member of the Community (Circle) Theatre's Board of Directors and producer of the current production, "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty"; the play's star, Michael Keller, and also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heater and cast members of the Circle's alternating production, "Sweet Charity"

In San Francisco the eminent author was interviewed on KCBS regarding screen production of his WW II novel "Warriors for the Working Day".

In the Los Angeles studio of KSBW, a televised interview converned his latest work, "Bastogne", also about WW II.

Managing director of Archive Press, Elstob is an officer in P.E.N. (Poets, Essayists, Novelists) of which Arthur Miller is president.

Peter Elstob makes his home in London with his American born artist wife, Barbara, their two children Mayo and Sukey, and five children by a previous marriage.

His son Harry Elstob has been a house guest of the Winston Elstobs for the summer. He returned to England with his father to enter York University.

Stoneson – Geer Wed Saturday

St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church of Carmel Valley was the setting for the wedding Saturday of Miss Linda Stoneson, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Stoneson of Carmel and John Geer of North Hollywood.

The Rev. James Brock officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony at which the bride's father, Donald H. Stoneson of San Francisco gave his daughter in marriage.

Linda was dressed in imported Swiss organdy, her veil and sleeves and hems appliqued with peau de soie flowers. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, zoria roses and baby's breath.

Miss Jeri Ann Stoneson of Carmel served as her sister's maid of honor. Other attendants included the groom's sister, Miss Laura Geer, Miss Linda Klemme and Miss Jean McIntosh from southern California.

They wore floor length gowns of yellow dotted Swiss and carried nosegays of yellow roses and carnations.

Best man was Jerry Ockerman of Fremont and among the ushers was included the bride's cousin, John Bauman of Palos Verdes Estates.

The reception was held at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club after which the couple left for their honeymoon in San Francisco and Sun Valley.

Both Linda and John are recent graduates of Whittier College. Her new husband teaches seventh grade in the San Carlos district.

UP YOU GO—Monterey County Symphony Conductor Haymo Taeuber helped his daughter clamber to the top of the Wells Fargo stagecoach for the Saturday parade at the recent California Rodeo in Salinas. His son Clemens is already up there riding "shotgun." Taeuber, his wife Gisela, and the children enjoyed being guests in the stage which reminded them of some in their native Austria. # Albert Crundall Use Of Mixed Media is Unique

by Louise Cook

The local art community will undoubtably be hearing more about Albert Crundall who is fairly new to our area.

Crundall received a prize for one of his entries at the Monterey Fair. This painting is an exquisitely executed view of Carmel Valley as seen from the Los Laureles Grade. The details of mountains, trees, shadows and flowers all contribute to make it a small jewel.

Another entry in the Fair was a water-color of Monterey Harbor. The rendition of water is unbelievably real, yet not photographic. The artist's composition of boats in the foreground and city skyline in the misty distance is well planned and acheived a salty atmosphere.

This artist has developed a unique method of using mixed media. He combines transparent with opaque water color, painted on board and them sprays the finished work with transparent acrylic. This gives it a permanent finish, not requiring a glass, the old bugaboo of light reflections.

Albert Crundall was born in England into a family of artists, his sister having been a student of Augustus John. For many years he was associated with Douglas Aircraft in Southern California doing industrial design.

Al Weber In One Man Photo Show at Eikon

The Eikon Gallery is featuring a on-man photography exhibit by Al Weber in their recently opened second gallery in the Pacific Grove Art Center.

The exhibit will continue through Sept.

Al Weber lives and works out of Carmel Highlands, and has been in California for 15 years. His work is mostly architectural and aerial illustration, although in the past 12 months he has illustrated five books for Richard Hittleman (internationally know Yogi) for Doubleday and Bantam Press.

For five years Weber taught in the Evening Division of Monterey Peninsula College. In June of this year he completed his sixth straight workshop for Ansel Adams. He taught in a technical workshop held in the spring of 1969 at MPC, and is currently planning a series of workshops with Pirkle Jones, the first of which will be held in September.

Weber is chairman of the Monterey County Fair Photography Exhibit, and has been for three years. He also serves as a trustee to Friends of Photography in Carmel.

Although Al Weber has exhibited in several group shows with other Monterey Peninsula photographers, this exhibit at the Eikon Gallery is his first one-man show. His second will be in Jacksonville, Florida this fall.

September Show at MPMA Will Be Last in Carmel Before Move

Exhibit Features Paintings By De Vincenzi Blown Glasswork By Robert Fitz

The final exhibition at the Carmel Gallery of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art will be on display during the month of September.

On Oct. 1 the Museum will relocate in Monterey at 55 Pacific.

This final exhibit will feature paintings and drawings by John DeVincenzi and blown-glass by Dr. Robert Fritz. Both are professors of art at San Jose State College.

John DeVincenzi is a native Californian who was born and educated in San Jose, received his BA from San Jose State College, and his masters from Stanford.

He has exhibited extensively in California and his work has been included in many major invitational and juried shows. He has had one-man shows throughout the Western United States and in Italy. He has juried a number of shows in this area including last year's Monterey County Painting Competitive.

DeVincenzi is currently serving as art chairman of the San Jose Fi ne Arts Commission, was active in the formation of Santa Clara Valley's Coordinating Arts Council, and has served three times as president of the San Jose Art League. His many other affiliations include Society of Western Artists and East Bay Art Asso. His exhibit will include watercolors, oils, and graphics.

Robert Fritz was born and educated in Ohio. He received his BA and MA from San Jose State and his Ph.D. from Ohio State University. Following studies at the University of Wisconsin in 1964 with German glass-blower Erwin Eisch and Prof. Harvey Littleton, he inaugurated at San Jose State one of the first college courses in glass-blowing on the West Coast.

Dr. Fritz has been represented in all of the major glass exhibitions in the United States. He has had a number of one-man shows in California, and his work has been shown in national invitational exhibits in Texas, Boston, and with California Design 10. His prizes include the Purchase Award at the Toledo Glass National.

He is represented in the Permanent Collection of the City of San Francisco, and in museums in Oakland, Toledo, and San Diego. He has served as chairman of the California State Craft Congress, is past-president of the Association of San Francisco Potters, and board member of the San Jose Art League. He teaches both glass-blowing and ceramics, and his exhibit will include works in both media.

The exhibit will be open to the public from September 1 through 27 at the Museum's present location on Lincoln Street in Carmel. Gallery hours are from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 2-5 p.m. Saturdays.

No exhibits have been scheduled in the new Museum for the remainder of 1969 while the first phase of the necessary remodeling is being completed.

The official opening of the new facility, the former County Building located across the street from Colton Hall, California's first capital, will be early in 1970.

The opening show will be the 6th Annual Monterey County Painting Competition, traditionally held in October, but postponed this year because of the move. The Museum has planned this move to better serve the entire county through the centralization of location, enlargement of exhibition areas, and inclusion os space for workshops and classrooms within the facility.

Though no monthly exhibits will be hung for the remainder of the year, workshops, lectures, and other educational programs will be held on the premises, the Museum office will be open, and the Permanent Collection will be on view daily in it's own gallery area.

Movie Review

Oliver!—This Academy Award winner is based on the Charles Dickens novel Oliver Twist. From the London musical stage and directed by Sir Carol Reed. At Cinema 70.

Funny Girl—Barbra Streisand's first movie. Life story of Fanny Brice. Omar Sharif as gangster Nick Arnstein is outstanding, Walter Pidgeon too. At the Regency.

Vixen—Erica Gavin, one of the most generously endowed of the new screen sirens, in a plotty bit with racial strife, sex, the draft, sex, the Vietnam war, sex and communism . . . and sex. At the Hill.

Rascal—A delightful Walt Disney production centered around a raccoon and a parcel of mischief. Steve Forrest is an errant father, Bill Mumy is his adolescent son. Walter Pidgeon does off-screen narration. At the Valley Cinema.

Blackbeard's Ghost—Walt Disney movie about a pirate's ghost that is doomed to wander in limbo until he does a good deed on earth. Peter Ustinov is a wonderful Blackbeard. At the Valley Cinema.

The Chairman—Gregory Peck is a Nobel Prize winner in biochemistry who undertakes an espionage mission in Red China. Exciting spy stuff with tiny transmitters in Peck's skull and the whole bit. At the Golden Bough.

Romeo and Juliet—This production of Shakespeare's great tragedy stars two youngsters who were only slightly older than the real Romeo and Juliet. Leonard Whiting was 17 when the film was made, Olivia was a 15-year-old Juliet. At the Village

Those Daring Young Men in Their Jaunty Jalopies—An American driver, Tony Curtis, challenges Britisher Terry Thomas to an auto race in the early 1920s, and laughs continue from the starting gun to the finish line. At the Steinbeck.

The Oblong Box—A typical American International Pictures horror flick with a satisfying amount of gore. Playing as one of three horror and suspense films at the Marina Auto Movie.

The Desperados—Vince Edwards and Jack Palance star in this story of renegades turned outlaws. Pack Palance is a religious fanatic, Edwards is his son who flees to Texas to live in peace. Pretty gory. At the State.

Castle Keep—Anti-war movie with allegorical, even surrealistic overtones. Absorbing and different with lurid dialogue that fits the picture and some violent scenes that are vivid and striking. At the State.

Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell—Lolobrigida was never better as an enterprising Italian matron trying to cope with the sudden return of three Americans with whom she had brief affairs during World War II. At the Grove.

Stage Review

George M.!—Oh, those old-time songs! A play based loosely on the life story of George M. Cohan, one of the greatest "song and dance" men of all times. Loud, brassy, pushy, egotistical, but with an undeniable genius, Cohan dominated Broadway for most of 25 years. The cast at the Studio turns in a superior set of performances, and the play is sheer delight from the first curtain. Dinner and the show constitutes the outstanding entertainment bargain on the entire peninsula. You must have reservations! Call 624-1661 or 624-2321.

Electric Music Hall—Playing at the White Oaks Theater in Carmel Valley, "Music Hall" is a collection of music, nostalgic to nowadays, from "Over the Rainbow" to selections from "Hair," the controversial stage production. "Electric Music Hall" is part of a three-section presentation by the White Oaks players. "Electric" plays Thursday and Friday evenings, "The Fantasticks" on Saturday and Sunday nights, and a matinee on Sunday features "The Box of Seven Faces," particularly for the younger set.

Sweet Charity—This production, alternating with "Secret Life of Walter Mitty" at the Circle Theater, has some of the finest dancing seen on the Peninsula in many a moon. Akemi Ito as Sweet Charity, the "dance hall hostess with a heart of gold" type, brings to the Circle stage a solid background of training in ballet and modern dancing, and she puts it to smashing use as Charity. There's something about her Oriental pixiness that seems completely suited to the character she portrays, and add to that an unusually capable supporting cast, and you have a great evening of entertainment.

Mike Keller To Hollywood For TV Role

Michael Keller, currently playing the title role in "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," the hit musical at the Circle Theatre, has been called by 20th Century-Fox to play a featured role in a pilot film for a television series.

It is a comedy role in which he will play the owner of a cross-eyed dog. The new series entitled "Manny" will star Juliette Mills, sister of actress Hayley Mills. Michael will leave Sunday for four days of shooting on 20th's back lot.

The Circle Theatre will go dark for one performance on next Wednesday, Aug. 27, but will play Thursday through Sunday. "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," which received its second standing ovation at last Sunday's performance, will be extended with extra performances on Sept. 5, 6 and close its very successful run on Sept. 7.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Ray and Ed Went Camping"

Ray Ayres and Ed O'Callaghan of Pacific Grove and schoolmate pals since early childhood, have long since had a dream. This was that after graduating from P.G. High School (which they just have done successfully) they would "see the U.S.A."

Ray and Ed have given an "exclusive" to your Party Plans editor by faithfully keeping a daily log of their recent travels. These two personable and adventurous 18-year-old boys worked and saved for this trip. Their efforts are not wasted.

Full of confidence and carefully made plans, they started forth from P.G. in Ed's small 6 cylinder van with camper attached. Unfortunately the latter had several holes through which rain leaked copiously. And rain it did. Excerpts from the boys' "log" read like this:

June 16: Monterey to Cottonwood, Calif. No difficulties. Fishing Sacramento River. Ate spaghetti, hamburger, applesauce. Limb from tree fell on Ed's head. Mileage first day 373 miles. (Can't go over 40 m. per hr.)

June 17: Cottonwood to Mt. Shasta 60 miles. Fished Shasta Dam. Ray caught a 7 in. trout. Cooked it on Caleman camp stove . . with oil, salt & pepper . . catsup . . good with canned fruit.

June 18: Went to Carter Lake and saw snow. But had huge mosquitos.

Boy can they BITE!

From these on it was loads of trout for the boys and sleeping in the National Parks. Soon they discovered that the fees for fishing licenses and overnight stays in these areas were becoming beyond their means.

June 24: Left Grand Teton National Park for Yellowstone. Went over the Continental Divide . . elev. 8,000 ft. Stayed at camp grounds. Met three girls! They are from Minnesota. It snowed over the Divide. The girls scrambled eggs for us on our stove. They didn't have one, but as it was snowing they couldn't cook over a campfire.

June 25: Left Yellowstone as it was snowing so hard we guessed we'd better get out. Said goodbye to the three girls. Saw some elk and bears. Drove to Montana. Stopped snowing but started raining again. Hasn't stopped since. Van has leaks. Most of our clothes are soaked. Tried to sleep along side of Hwy. 10.

June 26: Came to Butte. Went to laundry mat . . our first try. At home our mothers always did this. Had to ask what to do. Still raining.

June 27: Went to Hwy. 287 and through Helena, Mont. Fished at Sun River on 287 below bridge. Between us we caught 28 German Brown Trout. (Sorry, Party Plans doesn't know what happened to all those gorgeous trout)

Over the border into Canada: Came from Glacier National Park at 12:30 p.m. Went through Customs without trouble. Met some interesting Canadians.

July 1: Left Alberta . . found campsite . . took showers . . Boy did that feel good! Weather getting hotter. Saw a beaver in the lake . . decided not to try and trap it. Getting hungry.

July 4: Here in Winnepeg, but the Canadians don't know what's going on. (Meaning our Independence Day. Gee!

From then on, the boys became slightly weary, but inspite of this, kept going from Cheyenne, Wyoming to Pueblo, Colorado. Dutifully visited all the National Parks and museums. Went swimming and fishing but water was very hot.

July 12: Came to Arizona; stopped by roadside on Rt. 66 for the night. At approximately 9 p.m., we were walking around in the dark and heard a rattler in the bushes . . no more than 5 feet away. Scared? You bet!!

On to Grand Canyon . . tired . . broke . . Decided to drive all the way through to L.A. nonstop. Some trip!

July 16: We made it and slept for the first time in real beds at a motel in Santa Monica even though it cost us our last $18. We were near home! Sent post cards home . . "Mom: I sure like your cooking a lot. I'll never knock it again . . we're awful hungry."

Back in P.G. where both Moms prepared a fea-s-t.

"What did you boys find to eat that you liked best in Canada?" Party Plans asked.

"Well, ma'am there were those small pies called pasties. Do you know how to make them?"

Canadian Picnic Pasties

One env. instant chicken broth mix; 1 cup water; 1/3 cup white wine; 3 whole chicken breasts; 3 stalks celery with leaves, cut up; 1 onion, sliced;; ½ cup each minced raw onion, carrot, celery; ¼ cup butter; 4 T. flour; 2 pkgs. pie crust mix.

Dissolve broth mix in water; add wine. Add chicken and vegetables. Cover; simmer until chicken is tender. Remove same; strain broth. Dice chicken fine. Cook minced vegetables in butter until tender. Do not brown. Stir in flour. Add hot broth, cooking until thick. Season to taste.

Prepare pie crust as directed. Roll out in smallish circles. Place spoonful of mixture on each circle; fold over; crimp edges with tines of fork . . Brush tops with milk, Cut a slit in top of each. Bake at 425 F. until golden brown. Cool. Wrap in foil to carry to campsite. These will keep several days in camp "frig" or cooler. Makes about 30 pasties.

So, Moms, prepare plenty for your wanderlust boys . . they'll always want to come back home!

P.S. Party Plans suggests making these tempting English pielets with a mixture of ground beef (lean hamburger) and seasonings. A bit of bread crumbs mixed with Worcestershire and chopped parsley gives the right amount of consistency. Make into pasties as above. Wrap in foil . . take to campsite. Serve hot, warm, cool or cold.

How about trying these out for Labor Day weekend?

A watercolor by raham also was a blue ribbon winner at the modern art show.

Hypertension Booklet Available

High blood pressure, or pertension, is a common order. The Heart Association timates that in the United ates at least 17 million rsons have the condition to me degree.

Many people who have been ld they have high blood ssure, or others who only spect they may have the ndition, are poorly informed out the facts. Because of this e Central Mission Trails Heart Association has a supply of booklets on the subject for anyone who asks. A sixteen-page booklet, "High Blood Pressure" discusses the subject quite thoroughly. It was written for the person with real or suspected hypertension and for members of his family.

Interested persons may obtain a copy by writing to the Association at 541-A South Main Street, Salinas. Ask for the booklet "High Blood Pressure."

New Phonics Reading Text

California's elementary pupils will be using new phonics textbooks this fall, thus ending a long and confusing controversy over so-called "phonics vs. look-say."

"Look-say can now be dropped from our vocabulary. It is a dead issue," says Dr. Russell Parks, vice chairman of the State Curriculum Commission and superintendent of Fullerton Elementary Schools.

The $11.1 million basic and supplementary textbook program, Dr. Parks explains, completes introduction of all phonics skills by the end of the second grade and provides for teaching of the alphabet in the first grade. It was approved last May 10 by the State Board of Education by a unanimous vote.

"It is a reading program designed to be used statewide in all schools, rural and urban; advantaged and disadvantaged; English-speaking and bi-lingual," Dr. Parks said.

Mrs. Elaine H. Stowe, who headed the commission's reading subcommittee until her recent resignation to take advantage of a year's leave of absence from her post as language arts specialist for Sacramento City Schools, points out that more than 40,149 people took a year to screen all new reading textbooks available and finally participate in recommending those adopted

Mrs. Stowe explained that the new adoption represents an effort by the Curriculum Commission toward achieving an increased vocabulary for children as well as a much earlier introduction of word skills. She said: "In the light of research and experience, the best materials available have been selected to enable teachers to provide a reading program which will evaluate the literacy level of California children and youth."

Mrs. Stowe added that the early introduction of phonics actually began this past year with the new spelling program in grades one and two and coincides with the phonics programs in the new reading texts.

Redwood Gift to UN

Three Redwood saplings (Sequoia gigantea) have been sent to the Palais des Nations, the European headquarters of the United Nations in Geneva, Switzerland, to replace a century-old giant of the same species destroyed by lightning there last June, the Save-the-Redwoods League announced today in San Francisco.

The League made the gift of the young saplings, which were sent to Vittorio Winspeare Guicciardi, Director-General of the United Nations office there at the suggestion of Elinor Kamath of the World Health Organization in Geneva and her mother, Mrs. Francesca L. Kahn of San Francisco, a member of the League.

The grounds of the Palais des Nations, the former home of the League of Nations, are those of an old estate. The Redwood apparently was brought there by the original owners who planted trees and shrubs from all parts of the world on the spacious grounds. Since the Sequoia gigantea, known by the folk names Big Tree or Sierra Redwood, only received this popular and scientific attention after its discovery in 1852, this particular specimen must have found its way early from its native home on the western slopes of the Sierra Nevada Mountains of California.

The saplings should thrive on the grounds of the Palais for, unlike the Sequoia sempervirens or Coast Redwood native to the more temperate region of the Pacific Coast, it is used to cold temperatures and snow.

An ad in the Pine Cone has a 7-times-better chance to be read than an ad in a daily newspaper.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BIBLE LESSON

"And the Lord said unto Moses, Thus thou shalt say unto the children of Israel, Ye have seen that I have talked with you from heaven."

This verse from Exodus is part of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon, titled "Mind," to be read in the denomination's churches this week.

A correlative passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humanity gains the true conception of man and God."

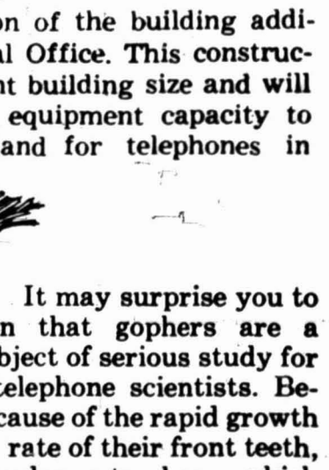
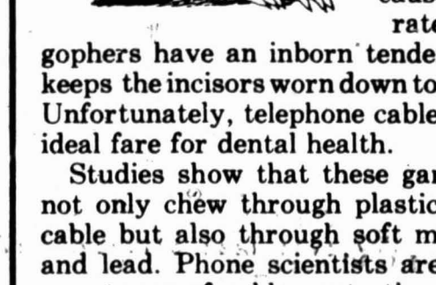
If an emergency arises, you want to contact the help you need the fastest way possible. So here's a reminder about a convenience that's right on the inside front cover of your telephone book. There you'll find spaces for filling in important numbers such as the Fire Department, the Police, and your doctor. If you take a few seconds to write them down, they could save valuable time when it counts—because the fastest way to get help is to dial direct. Of course, if there's some reason you can't, just dial "0" for Operator. She's there to help.



We are nearing completion of the building addition at our Marina Central Office. This construction will double the present building size and will allow us to increase our equipment capacity to serve the increasing demand for telephones in that area.



It may surprise you to learn that gophers are a subject of serious study for telephone scientists. Because of the rapid growth rate of their front teeth, gophers have an inborn tendency to chew—which keeps the incisors worn down to manageable lengths. Unfortunately, telephone cable provides them with ideal fare for dental health.

Studies show that these game little fellows will not only chew through plastic coatings on buried cable but also through soft metals like aluminum and lead. Phone scientists are continually testing new types of cable protection that will prove impervious to these persistent underground diners.

Goings On

History tells us that our Carmel Valley Village was loved and lived in as early as 1830 when the Borondo Spanish landgrant called Rancho Los Laureles was given Borondo by Mexico. The Village area today was the location of a thousand acre dairy farm, a part of the Borondo landgrant. One hundred years later, Marian and Phillip Wilson bought the milk house which we know as the Carmel Valley Gallery, and the adjacent land which was dotted with bunk and tack houses, which make up the oak shaded cottages known as the White Oaks Inn, today. There was an old barn, which became the first home of the White Oaks Theatre. Across from this part of the farm and up on a knoll was the milk barn. Today there is a little Catholic Church there.

Marian and Phil Wilson put in many years of hard work and turned this rough-hewn nucleus of a village into a charming, rural scene, avidly sought after as rustic dwellings, eventually housing even the Post Office as we know it today but which was originally the "CARMEL" Post Office. It was not until 1903 when the Carmel-by-the-Sea nomer was annexed by the seaside village, claiming the postoffice of CARMEL as well. In the not too distant past, the Wilson's ran an Inn indeed, with Marian's fine food being offered as their cuisine. Edith Brattin, of Brattin's Nursery helped in this endeavor also.

Carmel Valley Gallery is considered an outstanding gallery in the Monterey Peninsula area and is a fine monument to Marian's excellent taste and knowledgable discernment in selection and collection of the valuable works of art one sees there. She specializes in local artists, and is on the list of most "gallery-goers" who come to our part of the world.

In addition to the Gallery, Marian has created an exquisitely appointd Gift and Accessory Shop which she called the In and Outdoor Shop, in the buildings adjacent to the

Who's To Know

The inside garden patio at Will's Fargo has never looked more beautiful. Goes to show you how much lush color can be created with a pot garden, hanging tuberous begonias and fern baskets. May Youngberg reports would be C.V. Villagers arriving at her Town and Country Properties offices with her last week's ad in hand. Nice to know we are being read and that we are attracting new comers to our exclusive sunshine corner of the Valley. Marzi Pottery will be showing Mrs. Ronald Pickett's group of eight (all from the Navy Postgraduate School) through their factory, after which the girls are luncheoning at the fragrantly hospitable Keeping Room just around the corner.

Lou Gardner's exceptionally beautiful daughter Liliana has been weekending here at father's Blue Sky Lodge this summer, as a respite from the heat in King City where she has been taking extra credit work to further her teaching career. Exceptionally beautiful also are the trasvaal daisies right now in myriad colors at the Oleander Nurseries. Especially welcome to our pages are the members of the White Oaks Theatre Guild whose support makes possible our enjoyment of the lively troupe of artistically dedicated young people who make up the cast on stage. The 20th Year Reunion of Carmel High was celebrated at the Los Laureles Lodge, with 35 or so old time grads making their appearances from as far away places as Chicago. Arriving to take advantage of the sunny pool as early as one o'clock, they cavorted and sunned then showered and dressed and happy houred until about 8:30 when they sat down to marvelous charbroiled steaks. In top form after dinner, they pumped the old time player piano and sang at the top of their lungs until 2 a.m. then it was all over until next year.

At the Valley Lodge children and grown ups are busy playing table tennis, badminton, and shuffleboard, in addition to enjoying the pool. Sauna bathing is available too. Marian Wilson is marking her 39th year as a property owner in Carmel Valley Village. Clearly a pioneer, she has watched the growth of the Village, making her own commendable contribution in both her In and Outdoor Shop and Carmel Valley Art Gallery. Irene Baldwin has enjoyed the company of her granddaughters this summer who have helped her get settled in her charming new house. Larry Cummings will have an upstairs vacancy when Harry Conley moves to his home studio. Marvelous light, a great working studio in that upstairs corner. Virginia de Maria of Rippling River Resort says they hope to add to their motel accommodations in the not too distant future. The Village Art Center is working on very exciting plans for their fall Arts and Crafts Classes. Have you ever tried Sopapilla for dessert at the Plaza Linda? A thick batter it is, dropped by spoonfuls into hot oil long enough to puff up and turn a golden color. Served hot with powdered sugar and honey to dip into . . . it is a melt in the mouth treat. Come try it.

Laureles Lodge is opening a new health spa to be operated under the supervision of "Doc" Wiley, well-known health enthusiast on the Peninsula.

Small Items Only in Drop Boxes, Asks Salvation Army

The Salvation Army drop boxes located in convenient locations throughout the Peninsula are primarily designed to take care of small, light items such as clothing, toys and tools.

This reminder has been issued by Brigadier Heber Sainsbury of the Men's Social Service Center in San Jose, the agency which gathers and restores donated materials for sale in the Salvation Army's thrift stores.

"Because the location of these drop boxes is contributed as a courtesy and convenience by the public spirited businesses, we are anxious to cooperate with them in keeping the area around our boxes clear.

Small items can be contained in the boxes, but furniture and other large items should not be left on the outside.

Chavez To Be Guest At Cabrillo Fest

Mexican composer Carlos Chavez will be the guest of the Cabrillo Music Festival for the world premiere of his "Discovery" Aug. 24 at 8:30 p.m.

Richard Williams will conduct the Amici della Musica Orchestra in the Chavez composition, which was commissioned by the Cabrillo Guild of Music and the Santa Cruz County Bicentennial Commission.

"Discovery" commemorates the Portola Expedition of 1769 and is dedicated to the Bicentennial. The title word "discovery" means more, however, than a recognition of the California explorers. Chavez states, "To me, discovery means discovery of sound, discovery of music, inventing of music. All discoveries," he continues, "ought to be more or less substantially alike: there are elements of gestation, decision, search, strength, doubt, renewed strength, revelation, confidence. Probably the discovery of lands was not much more different than the discovery of music is."

Chavez successfully holds two roles in modern music, those of distinguished conductor and gifted composer.

Among his other works are an opera, five ballets, six choral compostions, six chamber pieces, 12 piano compositions and six songs.

Chavez the conductor enjoys an international reputation as an original, vital and commanding artist. He first appeared as a conductor in the United States in 1939 with the Boston Symphony, and since then has made guest appearances with the New York Philharmonic, and the Philadelphia, Cleveland and NBC Symphonies. His conducting of the Oakland Symphony earlier this year won a standing ovation.

Chavez the composer is also no stranger locally. The 1968 Cabrillo Festival included his "Toccata for Percussion," one of his nine orchestral pieces.

Chavez will join three other contemporary composers represented in the Cabrillo Festival in "Meet the Composers," an informal discussion at 4 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 24.

Also in this year's program at Cabrillo is his "Symphony No. 5 for Strings," scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 23, at 8:30 p.m.

For complete program and ticket information, call (408) 475-6000 or 688-2075.

Food Buying Book Offer

The Government Printing Office has just published a new consumer's guide titled "How to Buy Food" designed to help the consumer obtain the utmost in quality and quantity for his food dollar.

Shopping for food can be a puzzling task. What quality should you get? What cut of meat is best for the purpose? How much should you buy?

This packet of nine easy-to-read, fact-filled publications prepared by the Department of Agriculture can make shopping a lot easier.

Fully illustrated, these pamphlets tell you all about the U.S. grades for most all products from beef steaks and roasts to instant nonfat dry milk.

It points out what to look for when you shop and what to avoid. The various beef steak and roast cuts are illustrated so you can find them in your supermarket, regardless of the name they carry.

Tips on cooking, use and storage are included.

The nine pamphlets are included in a single packet priced at $1.25. Order from: Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

AUSTRALIA'S FISHING CENTER
(Last of two parts)

North of Brisbane, on a sun-drenched 25-mile stretch of coastline, the beaches, bays, lakes and rivers between Caloundra, on the south, and Noosa Heads, on the north, provide splendid sport for fishermen throughout the year.

This is the Sunshine Coast, a favorite playground of Queenslanders. At Bribie Passage, Alexandria Headland, in the mouth of the Mooloolah River and at deep sea reefs of Noosa, Mooloolaba and Caloundra, the waters are filled amost to overflowing with everything from whiting and flathead to Australian perch and mangrove jack.

Since this is resort country, the accommodations are excellent and the sports shops have bait, dinghies, power boats and almost everything else you need – except tackle, which is not normally available on a rental basis.

At Hervey Bay, some 150 miles north of Brisbane, is another of the coast's favorite fishing centers. Protected from the long sweep of Pacific waves by Fraser Island, the largest island off the Australian coast, the bay is about 40 miles wide and open at the north end of the world-famous Great Barrier Reef, a very special fishing paradise in its own right.

From Maryborough to Bundaberg, the Hervey Bay resorts welcome visiting fishermen and make dinghies and powered dinghies available. Although a variety of bait is available from shops at all Hervey Bay resorts, enthusiasts can easily obtain their own supplies of fresh yabbies from sandbanks in the area. Winter or summer, the fishing is good.

Half a dozen rivers drain into the bay – the Mary and the Burnett among them – and Fraser Island may be reached by rented charter launches. The island, which is only a few miles wide at its narrowest point but more than 80 miles long (from Hook Point to Sandy Cape), has a special attraction for local fishermen, and visitors would do well to ask the advice of local enthusiasts who will provide you with abundant information on the best spots, tackle and bait.

Americans who visit Australia will find several pleasant surprises awaiting them.

First, although some parts of the island continent are "very British," the area is by and large much more North American than European. Although there is always the pleasant sensation of being "abroad," a feeling intensified by the Aussie accent and abundance of fish-and-chips shops, things are not different enough to be disconcerting.

Not the least of the pleasant discoveries an American makes is that his dollars go almost twice as far in Australia as they do in the United States. Although the exchange rate ranks the Australian and U.S. dollars almost even, the visitor will find that prices for accommodations, meals and services are only half to two-thirds the going rates in the U.S.

Cal Davis Dean's List Released

The recently released dean's list for the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Davis, contains the names of 1,229 of the top students.

This represents about 20 percent of the enrollment in the largest college on the campus. More than 75 percent of the undergraduate enrollment at UCD is in this college.

To attain the list the student must have taken 12 units of work and achieved a grade point average during the spring quarter of 3.3

Miss Marjorie Fontana of Carmel, is sponsoring Brenda Cruch, a two year old girl from Green Hall, Kentucky, through Save the Children Federation, Norwalk, Conn.

Child-Family-Community Self-Help Sponsorships are administered by the Federation in the poverty stricken areas of Appalachia in the form of interest-free loans that enable the mountain people there to help themselves. Funds are used to help the family improve its economic situation by investing in a self-help project that will raise its annual income.

Financial Booklet On Buying Small Business Offered By Bank

When it comes to buying a small business, a would-be buyer may rush in where angels fear to tread.

And the seller must also be aware of many pitfalls, according to a new Bank of America report.

Concerned with single proprietorships rather than partnerships or changes in corporate ownerships, the latest edition of The Small Business Reporter notes:

"Although the decision to buy or sell a business is a crucial one, a surprising number of people rush into transactions without adequate preparation. They arrive at their decision guided more by emotion than by logic."

Bank of America emphasizes that the prospective buyer must take time to get adequate information about the business. If the owner refuses to furnish necessary information, the buyer should take this as a warning sign.

The buyer is also advised to look behind the surface reason for the sale. A seller may give ill health as the reason when the real reason is a declining business or an obsolete product.

"Reliable accountants, lawyers and escrow holders are a virtual must for the buyer to reach an intelligent decision. The buying process is very complicated even for experts; those without experience should be doubly careful."

Copies of this report may be obtained through any Bank of America branch.

PG&E Gets Top Safety Award

The National Safety Council's Award of Honor, the council's highest award, has been presented to Pacific Gas and Electric Company for its record in reducing the frequency and severity of on-the-job accidents.

PG&E has won three of the National Safety Council's Award of Honor plaques since 1954.

During the 1968 calendar year, PG&E substantially reduced its accident frequency rate and reduced the severity of accidents, according to the National Safety Council.

"Safety is everybody's job and one that pays dividends in many big ways. Safe work habits make jobs easier and more productive and improve our service to customers," Shermer L. Sibley, the utility company's president, said in accepting the award on behalf of all PG&E employees.

A second award from the Edison Electric Institute honoring PG&E for its large reduction in 1968 of accident frequency over the average of the past three years was accepted by Sibley. It was the fourth time PG&E has won the EEI accident reduction award since 1955.

Present for the awards ceremony were the managers of all PG&E's 13 operating divisions.

Apollo 11 Art To Travel

Thousands of Californians viewing the Monterey children's Apollo 11 art exhibit in San Francisco were joined Aug. 14 by two local education officials.

Monterey County Board of Education President Mrs. Althea Bernard and County Schools Superintendent Ed Coffin were guests of Crown Zellerbach, the company hosting the historic exhibit. They joined company officials viewing the exhibit and presided over installation of three life-size astronaut figures.

The astronaut figures were created as a group project by the King City summer school.

Aug. 25 the exhibit moves from San Francisco to Sacramento for display in the Capitol Rotunda.

It will return to Monterey County on Sept. 5 to be available for display by local agencies, institutions and businesses.

Organizations interested in obtaining the exhibit display for temporary use should contact the Monterey County Office of Education Information Officer, 424-0655 or 373-2955.

These Remain Unchanged

So much has changed, so much remains the same.
There are motels and apartment houses now;
But little wooden cottages are there,
Low fences guarding tidy beds of flowers:
Old fashioned ivy and red geraniums,
Martha Washingtons, clove pinks, nasturtiums,
Bushes of ballerina-blossomed fuchsias,
And dahlias big as plates at summer's end.

The church on Lighthouse Avenue is gone;
The new one in the pines has one glass wall
To bring the woods inside the house of prayer.
But old St. Mary's-by-the-Sea still stands,
Its sweet voiced bell inviting worshippers
As it has done for almost ninety years.

The landward side of the road from Lovers' Point
That curls along the cliffs is lined with houses
To past the Point where bay and ocean meet.
I walked that road when all was virgin land–
Sand dunes, unplowed fields, and wooded hillocks.
The dunes were fun to climb and then roll down,
But they are flattened now, the white sand gone.

Beside that road I saw my first horned lark.
It was a place of birds: the white-crowned sparrow
Singing their wistful song from golden lupine,
A flock of crows feeding in untilled meadow,
The shorebirds wading in a salt lagoon,
And seabirds flying on the bayward side–
Cormorants, gulls, and sometimes pelicans.

Birdsong can still be heard and birdflight watched.
Not all sea-sculptures cypress and pines are felled.
Beaches and wave-carved cliffs, the scent of sea,
And blue bay waters . . . these remain unchanged.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

by Raymond MacDonald

By Raymond MacDonald

Q. My husband has been getting Social Security checks for the last two years. I will be 62 next month.. What do I need to take to the Social Security Office when I sign up for social security?

A. Bring your husband's social security card or a record of his number with you. If you have a social security number, be sure to bring that too. YOu will need proof of your age so take your birth certificate or baptismal record if you have one. If you don't have either of these documents, take other records which show your age, such as a child's birth certificate, a school record, or census record. The Social Security Office will also need a statement from your husband about your marriage. Don't wait to come in a file because you do not have all of these proofs. The people at the Social Security Office will help you get the records you don't have.

Q. I had a heart attack two months ago. My doctor told me I couldn't work for a long time. What should I take to the Social Security Office in order to get disability benefits?

A. Be sure to bring your social security number or a record of the number with you. The Social Security Administration will need to know how your disability keeps you from doing the things you were able to do before you became ill. They will also need to know the kinds of work you have done in the past and the names and addresses of the doctors and hospitals that have treated you since your illness began.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o the Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel, or phone Scoial Security office (373-3351)

Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

The entire thing of protesting by college students is confusing and the stream of books on the subject really doesn't clarify the situation to any great extent. We have a new one, a big one, written by a team of psychologists and psychiatrists, and the title of it is No Time For Youth.

If the entire book seems too long and too involved, read the final section, part 4, which is on recommendations for policy and philosophy.

Surely someone will come up with a workable solution!

Hasten the day!!

A history of San Francisco Bay from 1769 through 1776 is by Treutlein and is called San Francisco Bay what else could it be called?

There is much about the founding of missions there, and also much about Monterey.

Good material for the bicentenniel celebration.

To lighten your way a little, try a clutch of Irish stories by Seamus Ridge, who was himself from Conamara, but lived in this country until 1967, when he died. He was a teacher of the Gaelic, but wrote these stories from memory in his spare time. The book of them is called Conamara Man.

Napoleon's Viceroy is the life story of Eugene de Beauharnais, who was the son of Josephine and the adopted son of Napoleon.

This book by Carola Lenanton is the only full length biography of Eugene in English, the only other one being in German and not translated.

The book jacket declares this amazing because Eugene's descendents occupy the thrones of Sweden, Norway, Belgium, and Denmark.

This is an interesting book, filled to the brim with nobility and royalty and pretenders of various types.

And speaking of royalty, comes now a book about and entitled Spencer Tracy written by Larry Swindell.

Here he is from the day of his birth in 1900 to that day when he finished his last picture in 1967 and died two weeks later. Here are all the great names of Hollywood, but the greatest was his own, Spencer Tracy.

Plan Checking Course

A Monterey Peninsula College course in Plan Checking, designed for inspectors, contactors and personnel in related fields, was oriiginally announced as starting Tues, Sept. 9, 7 to 10 p.m.

This course will not begin until Tuesday, Sept. 16, according to MPC's technical-vocational office.

The illustrations are photographs, and there are many of them. This is a book you should not miss.

If we may digress from the subject of books for a minute, this librarian would like to recommend to your attention, and perhaps action, the publication of the Monterey S.P.C.A. We always have several copies to distribute, placed near the front door of the library, and we are always proud to do this. It is a well-written, well-edited publication and deserves to be read with care. This last issue has a good article on the sentimental idiots who allow their female cats to have regular litters of kittens, events which these female cats would gladly renounce for a simple operation which is quite inexpensive to their owners.

Sometimes animal lovers can't stand people!!!!

Another magazine article we would like to recommend to you is in the last issue of Esquire, and it really a collection of articles, on the college crisis and the revolt of the students. It ties in with the first book in this column No Time For Youth, and also with a book by a young man named Kunen which is entitled The Strawberry Statement.

If you don't read what these kids are saying, you'll never understand the times. Perhaps you won't anyway.

School Start Means Extra Driving Care

Pointing to a recent AAA study which reported that each year some 11,000 children are involved in traffic accidents while walking to and from school, the California State Automobile Association urges all motorists to drive with extra care as school reopens for the fall season.

The CSAA is conducting its annual public information campaign to alert drivers to the need for extra caution at school opening time.

Many of the five and six year olds are entering our heavy traffic stream for the first time on their own and need time to develop greater self confidence in traffic. Youngsters in the 5-8 year old age group are involved in two out of every three school-child pedestrian accidents.

To help reduce traffic congestion and confusion around schools, the CSAA asks parents not to drive their children to school, pointing out that children have to learn to become independent in traffic. Parents who drive children to school often contribute to the creation of hazardous traffic situations for all children enroute to school.

The CSAA urges all motorists to help our youngsters safely begin another exciting school year by remembering that "School's Open–Drive Carefully."

GRRRUF!!!—Here are the huge jungle cats, empty stomchs growling in protest, perparing to leap on their prey. We're sorry about the terrible slaughter, but that's just the law of the jungle. Of course, we big cats are amenable to taming, and once tamed make excellent household pets. We lear to exist on domestic food, with an occasional mouse for a delicious change of diet. We have a deal cooking with the SPCA. If you'd like to take on the job of taming our wild natures, call the SPCA at 373-2631 or visit the shelter on the Salinas-Monterey Highway across from the Laguna Seca Raceway.

With Bob Wood In Sacramento

Isn't it funny how some little incident in the everyday process of living can bring out the importance of a certain truism that we never really paid much attention to before.

Such an incident was brought home to me a couple of weeks ago.

The Salinas Rodeo Committee had been kind enough to invite me as Assemblyman in this District to ride shotgun on the Wells Fargo stage coach and sit up front with the driver on a very high seat directly over and behind a six-horse team of beautifully well-trained horses.

I thought our young grandson from Fresno, age 4½, might enjoy riding up there between the driver and myself so the two of us drove to Salinas and away we went.

I tried to coax him into waving to the people. After all, if his granddad is going to stay in office, his grandson will have to learn to help a little. But his small face showed very little expression as we rode down the main street of Salinas high up on the stage coach. I couldn't figure it out. I knew this wasn't his home town and I realized he didn't know anyone in the crowd but I still thought, or hoped, he would enjoy it more than his outward expression showed at the time.

However, his expression never changed until, all of a sudden, from the crowd his ears heard a familiar voice and he turned to see his younger sister, age 3, held up high above the crowd by my wife, Betsy. His sister was shouting his name and started raising the devil because she, too, couldn't ride with granddad up on the stage coach.

From that moment on my grandson's expression changed. Someone he knew and someone who knew him cared and had acknowledged his presence. His seat on the stage coach took on a whole new meaning.

Recently I was interviewed by a TV station in Sacramento and I casually asked if the TV station would be showing in Monterey County and he said no, it would be shown in the Lodi-Modesto area only. I realized right then and there I felt like my grandson before he saw someone in the parade who knew him or cared. It didn't really matter quite so much what kind of a job I did on the TV interview because I knew no one in that area and no one really cared. I doubt if I showed much enthusiasm.

Home is that spot where people care what you do, whether it be your home town, the entire County, or several counties or within your own family and circle of friends.

All of the State Legislators have returned to their representative areas and homes where their people care what they do. Each one must be judged for his actions, whether the verdict is good or bad, home is still that spot where the people at least take the time to judge, because they care.

Bob Wood

P.S. Don't be discouraged because the legislature did not arrive at a tax reform program this last session. There is still time to get a program on the ballot before the next general election in November, 1970. The Governor wants it, the legislators want it and you, the people, are demanding it. We have considered various tax reform measures this last session but we must all remember there is no way to make tax reform perfect. If you shift the burden from one tax to another somebody benefits and somebody doesn't. Our job is to bring back for your approval the best possible tax reform program available.

Foundation Program

The Carmel Foundation will present Raymond MacDonald, representative from the Social Security office on Wednesday, Aug. 27, at 2:30, at the Town House, Lincoln near 8th.

MacDonald has been a field representative for Social Security since 1941. His work is contacting people, answering questions, reassuring them. He helps the ill or disabled to fill out claims or applications for disability. If anyone is unable to come in to the office, he is willing to go to their homes.

The meeting is open to the public and Tea will be served.

Our Men In Service

A change in Army policy now permits thousands of servicemen to reenlist without loss of grade, according to Sergeant Jose Garcia, Army recruiter in Monterey.

In effort to bolster the middle enlisted ranks, the Army now permits former soldiers who were separated in the grades E-6 or below to come back into the service at their former grades up to 30 months after separation from active duty.

Any former servicemen with questions about the new policy are invited to visit Sergeant Garcia at room B4, Post Office building in Monterey or call him at 372-4742.

Cadet Michael L. Rudzis, a third classman (sophomore) at the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, is receiving training at Camp Buckner on the Academy reservation this summer.

He is the son of Marine Lt. Col, and Mrs. Edwin M. Rudzis, Route 1, 142 Oliver Road, Carmel, Calif.

More than 800 cadets, all Third Classmen, are participating in the eight-week course which is designed to acquaint them with all phases of leadership at the platoon level.

The 19-year-old cadet is a 1968 graduate of Carmel High School.

Parents Without Partners Meet At Casa Estrada

Mrs. Frank (Nancy) Bottero, Carmel High School health teacher, will be one of the panelists at the next Parents Without Partners general meeting at Casa Estrada, Monterey, on Friday, Aug. 29 at 8 p.m.

The topic will be "Sex Education for Whildren—What Age and How Much?" Visitors are welcome.

She will be joined by Ruth Pierce, member of the Voluntary Council of Parents of Monterey. Mrs. Cam Shure will moderate the discussion.

Parents Without Partners is an international, non-profit educational organization devoted to the psychological and social welfare of its members.

Parents need not have custody of their children to be eligible.

Activities this month have included discussions, dancing, beach parties, a gem hunting expedition, and a steak barbecue at Deer Flats.

For further information call 375-0172 or 373-2795.

Boosters Plan Kick-off Rally

A kick-off rally for all Carmel High athletes, their coaches, and the song and cheer leaders will be held Sunday, Aug. 24 starting at 6 p.m.

A brief meeting, outlining the school athletic year, will be held in the Parish Hall of All Saints' Church followed by a "bring your own food picnic" at the 13th St. beach.

This first-time event is sponsored by the Carmel Boosters.

New president, Dick Bennett, urges all those in the Carmel and Carmel Valley community interested in athletics to come and meet the coaches, the athletes, and their families.

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA

CARMEL is a breath of fresh air, an awareness of beauty. The materialist says of Carmel, "corny," nothin' to do. The idealist glimpses something of reality and a meaning of life in this area of great beauty.

Located, as Carmel is, almost on the west edge of the west coast, it benefits from clean Pacific air, filtered and conditioned by thousands of miles of ocean. It is snuggled into an intimate bay where it receives protection from northerly winds and is guarded by nearby Point Lobos and the Santa Lucia Mountains.

Some Carmel Business Association facts are included in the following:

BRIEF HISTORY

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA is a residential community and art center located on the Pacific shore of Monterey County, California, 130 miles south of San Francisco and 350 miles north of Los Angeles.

Carmel is an informal, individualist town with a citizenry that constantly strives to preserve the natural beauty of ocean, hills and woods. Homes nestle around and under trees on the slopes that rise from the world-famous white sands of Carmel Beach. Local ordinances tightly restrict business zones (i.e., none on the Beach front), outlaw billboard and neon advertising, and control indiscriminate tree cutting.

Carmel has no cemetery, no mail delivery, no street addresses (mail is picked up at the local post office), and except for the business district, conventional sidewalks and street lights are missing.

The village is culturally active in music, art and little theatre groups, and features locally-made art objects in many gift shops.

CARMEL was named for the Carmelite Friars who came to the area with Viscaino in 1602. Carmel's first building, the Mission San Carlos de Borromeo (second of the great Franciscan Missions in California) was established by Father Junipero Serra in 1770.

In the early 1900's, the village of Carmel began around a group of young artists and writers. Five hundred residents living in an area of 7/8 of one square mile incorporated Carmel-by-the-Sea in 1916 and established a Mayor and City Council government.
